BELGIUM
(Belgique—Belgien)

THE PORT OF ANTWERP

Largest Seaport on the Continent. About 200 regular Steamship Lines to all parts of the World. 21 docks, 24 miles of mooring quays, 400 loading cranes, 450 miles of railway round the docks

CHEAP AND QUICK DISPATCH

FOR ANY INFORMATION APPLY TO: MUNICIPAL PROPAGANDA AND INFORMATION SERVICE, 4 GILDEKAMERSSTRAAT, ANTWERP

ANTWERP, the chief port of Belgium and one of the great ship-building and distributing centres on the Continent, has (including suburbs) a population of 340,000. This port which, in point of tonnage, is the first seaport of the Continent, is the magnificent docks and quays, and is one of the finest harbours in the world. The depth of water in the river has been so much improved that ships of 30,000 tons, and drawing 30 feet of water can reach the quay. The construction of the Kruis-Schoor Sluice to the Hydrodynamic Station, the first part of which was completed in 1906, is proceeding.

Principal imports are grain and seeds of all kinds, wood, ordinary and manufactured products, minerals, metals, hides, ivory, rubber, chemical products, textile fabrics, coffee and cork.

Principal exports are metal, grain, and flour, raw textile products, machinery and tools, hides, glassware, fabrics, chemical products, mineral products.

There is a Chamber of Commerce (Chambre de Commerce d'Anvers, rue des Ecus, 29) and a French Chamber of Commerce, rue des Tanneurs, 45. There is also a Shoe Trades Association (Association des Métiers).

BULGARIA

(Bulgarie—Bulgarien)

The area of Bulgaria is 40,500 English square miles, with a population of 4,337,513 at the middle of 1926. The people are chiefly engaged in the cultivation of cereals, tobacco, sweet oils, and the rearing of cattle, sheep, poultry and silkworms. Coal and iron exist, but mining is not carried on to any large extent.

The offices of the Bulgarian Legation in London are at 7 Queensberry place S.W.7, to which applications concerning consular matters should be made.

In addition to the British Minister and Consul-General at Sofia there are British Vice-Consuls at Bourgas and Varna.

During the first eight months of 1926 the exports were valued at 2,191,451,000 levas and the imports at 3,249,283,000 levas.

DENMARK, in the north of Europe, a kingdom of which the capital is Copenhagen, with a population of about 2,500,000. There is a railway communication with most of the towns in the north of Jutland. Telegraphic facilities are excellent. The climate is healthy, but the winter is severe, the thermometer sometimes falling to 10° below zero. Fahr. Ice frequently appears in the harbour of Copenhagen, and obstructs navigation for months. Large quantities of fish are exported, including herrings, mackerel, cod, etc. A large trade is done in cattle etc.

FÄROE ISLANDS

(Archipel de Feroe—Faroerne—Islas Feroe)

THIS group of the Feroe Islands is 540 square miles and the population is about 15,000. The capital is Thorshavn, situated in the middle of the Islands, with a population of 1,200. These islands are an Amt or Department of Denmark. A mail steamer runs this regularly between the Islands and Copenhagen, which is maintained by the United Steamship Co. of Copenhagen, whose vessels also call at Leith. A local steamship company also runs one steamer between the Faroe Islands and Iceland.

The chief exports are wool, feathers, train oil, fish, woollen goods and fish.

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER. 263

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER (Pas-de-Calais). The population of this town was 40,000 in 1881 and 41,000 in 1891. The depth of water on the bar is 20 feet at spring tides and 10 feet at neap. Before steps were taken to improve the port vessels of the largest class could not enter it at low water. The harbour is now accessible at all times, and the trade has increased considerably. The principal exports are agricultural produce, fish, and manufactured goods, and the principal imports are timber, coal, and iron. The chief industries are fishing, boat building, and brewing.

CALAIS (Department of CALVADOS) is a port of many importance, 201 miles from Paris on the Western Rly, and 14 miles from the sea, to which it is connected by a canal taking ships up to 1,000 tons, in an exceptionally favourable position as a port of transit for Central France. Population, 57,555. The department is mostly agricultural; among the industries, however, may be mentioned the manufacture of handmade thick lace and sharp functions.

Principal articles of import to Great Britain and abroad, timber, produce, lace, and linen-manufactures.

Principal export trade is in tape, lace, and wool spool.

There is a Chamber of Commerce.

CHERBOURG (LA POSTE), the great naval and military port of France, is situated at the mouth of the river Divette. It has a safe natural harbour and a valuable harbour. The population of the town is 37,461.

The great bulk of the trade of this port is with Great Britain.

The principal articles imported are [illegible], iron, [illegible] machinery, hay, [illegible] provisions of all kinds, [illegible] and clothing, [illegible] in consequence of the ships [illegible] quick transit.

The vessels from Cherbourg with [illegible] cotton, [illegible], [illegible] skins and poultry, also fruit and vegetables, and manufactured [illegible] generally.

The exports of vegetables consist chiefly, potatoes, cauliflowers and spinach, for which the climate and soil are admirably adapted. [illegible] from Cherbourg every one in [illegible].

A considerable amount of [illegible] is done between this port and England, steamers leaving [illegible] daily, and during the [illegible] season more frequently

LE HÂVRE (SEINE INFÉRIEURE). The population is 105,271.

Havre is the first market in the world for coffee, and the second in importance, after Liverpool, for cotton. It is also the principal port of Canada for the importation of goods intended for consumption in Paris and in the interior of France, and it has a great natural advantage in its maritime situation as the most central Continental port for vessels suffering from storms in the Atlantic.

Vessels of the Southern railway from Southampton run regularly, also General Steam Navigation Co.'s Havre to London. Monthly regular service from Le Havre to Bristol, Liverpool and Swansea (Nixon, Vezina & Co.).

Principal imports—raw cotton (yearly 60 from America), coffee (average 70 from Brazil), grain and flour, fresh fruit, petroleum, timber (400), rice, sheep, coffee, skins, tea, sugars, coal, hides, jute, sugar and tallow.
